

INTRODUCING COVIA™

A new company with a rich legacy

Built through the 2018 merger of Fairmount Santrol and Unimin, Covia is a leading provider of minerals and material solutions for the Industrial and Energy markets.

We offer customers a broad array of high-quality products, distinctive technical capabilities and the industry's most comprehensive and accessible distribution network.

We have a strong legacy built on a spirit of partnership – with each other, our customers and our communities – because we believe it creates the best ideas, products and outcomes. Partnership attracts great people and helps them excel while fueling innovation and prosperity for all our stakeholders.

Industries We Serve

With 40% of our pro forma 2017 volume in Industrial markets and 60% in Energy, Covia is a diversified company that can meet the wide-ranging needs of our customers. Our ability to deliver the right product, to the right place, at the right time, is unmatched. Just as strong is our commitment to building partnerships that help our customers succeed.

Industrial

Covia is an industry-leading provider of industrial solutions. Our scale and capabilities complement our extensive product portfolio, serving customers in the foundry, building products, ceramics, coatings and polymers, water filtration, glass, and sports and recreation markets. We support our customers and create value through market insight, a long-term solutions mindset and a culture of innovation, with expertise in areas such as micronization, resin development, coating and blending.

Energy

Covia is the oil and gas industry's leading material solutions provider. Our market-driven insights and value-added offerings, including an unparalleled selection of proppants to enhance well productivity and address operational challenges, allow us to address all well environments and to solve a range of down-hole challenges faced by our customers.
